

2131. Wickramasinghe, M.P.I

Field project report on prevention of Iodine deficiency disorders among pregnant mothers and school children at Kalupana and Pokunuwita through promotion of the use of iodized salt.

MSc.(Health Education) - 1996

D 383

The objective of the field assignment is to identify a specific health problem within any health programme currently being implemented in Sri Lanka and plan implement an evaluate an education programme in order to overcome this problem. This report presents how such an education programme was plan implement an evaluated in a selected area in Kalutara District.